From the desk of the pastor...

Blessed weekend to all!

To be a true disciple means to become truly humble. For Jesus, humility was to assume the lowest rank in society, and children were the lowest of the low in their culture.

Usually, children live in the world of humility until they enter into the world of competition. Sometimes when they enter school, they are expected to get good grades, and be considered in the honours. Perhaps it could be hurting for a little girl to hear: "Why can't you be like your big sister who gets all A's?" These little kids think their worth depends on success and if they failed, it can make them doubt themselves. Good parents love their children for who they are and not for what they can accomplish.

There is nothing wrong to have ambition. There is nothing wrong with trying hard to be promoted. Excellence is a virtue. But it is a very dangerous virtue. We should learn to accept the fact, that the ambition to rule as a leader should be substituted by the ambition to serve. The ambition to have things done for us must be substituted by the ambition to do things by us for others.

When the apostles were talking only among themselves, they openly expressed their own ambitions, but when Jesus enters into their group and asked them, there was a great silence. It was a silence of shame. How can they talk about their own greatness before Jesus, before a great Lord who was willing to serve and die for the world? No one can boast his own ego, in front of a very humble God. That's the beauty of prayer. When we talk before God, we see nothing but the truth – the truth that we are nothing before God.

- Fr Luis

CWL Outreach: Now that September is here with Labour Day gone and children back to school, the Food Bank, as ever, wants to thank the Parish Family for its help in these unprecedented times. This month it would be so appreciated if Parish households could drop a couple of tins etc in the boxes at the grocery stores, including four legged as well as two legged clients. But perhaps more importantly, this month please pray for the Food Bank and its work in our community, where support is really needed. Remembering all the other Food Banks struggling to cope with the need of their communities.

Celebrate 25 years with us!
