From the desk of the pastor...

Do you believe, really believe, in life after death?

In the Gospel, Jesus gives us one of the best glimpses of life after death. He says that we will become like angels, spiritual beings, in complete happiness with God. Our relationship in heaven will be with God and only because we are one with God will we be united with each other.

The singer, Peggy Lee, had a hit entitled, "Is That All There Is?" The lyrics basically claimed that if this life were all there is, we are in big trouble. How true! We all have problems with relationships, with our health, with the loss of a loved one, financial problems. The list can go on and on. None of us can claim the perfect life and we all know that there is only one common end to life here. You may be able to even avoid taxes, but no one avoids death. So, if that's all there is, it would be a pretty dismal life. Yet we know that if we keep the faith, if we follow Christ, the ultimate victory will be ours.

We are a people of hope. Hope in the promise of a God who loves us so very much that he took on our humanity and our sinfulness and purchased our redemption by dying on a cross. If that is not a testimony to His love and concern for us, what is?

What must we do to deserve, even in a small way, this love and promise of everlasting happiness with God? Jesus puts it very simply when He said, "Love God with your whole being and love your neighbour as yourself." And Jesus promises: you will have reward in heaven. But it's not just a one way contract. Jesus promises life, but we have to try to live a life deserving of that life everlasting. We have to keep the faith, we have to be a people of hope and we have to live this life so as to encourage others to live the life Christ wants us to live.

Fr. Luis
