From the desk of the pastor...

Over the head of the crucified Jesus was the inscription “Jesus of Nazareth King of the Jews.” Is Christ really a king? When Jesus stood before Pilate, He was asked, “Are You the King of the Jews?”

Christ did not deny that He was indeed a king. But then He said: “My kingdom does not belong to this world” (Jn 18:36). Jesus’ reply means He was not the kind of king Pilate imagined: A military or political ruler whose followers would fight to liberate him.

Christ’s kingdom implies not just a place but God’s active rule or reign that permeates a person’s heart from which his/her motives, values and attitudes originate. That’s why Christ declared: “The kingdom of God is within you.” Meaning, if people’s hearts and attitudes are just, honest, caring, then God’s kingdom is there.

We are called to be co-operators with God in bringing about the kingdom already here on earth. But, sometimes we are overwhelmed by the enormous problems of the world today. We throw up our arms and say, “What can I do? I’m so small and insignificant.”

There is an elderly woman living in a neighbourhood where there are many youngsters. Every morning she would be seen picking up broken bottles and shards of glass on the streets and sidewalks. Her neighbours thought she was deranged. One time someone asked why she was doing the “daily routine.”

“If I can prevent some children from stepping on those sharp objects through my little act,” she replied, “then I have done something to make the world a safer place to live in.”

The story of that elderly woman shows that a good act, no matter how insignificant, helps build God’s kingdom characterized by justice, love and peace.

Happy Feast of Christ the King to each and everyone!

- Fr. Luis
